Thank you SO much, Roxanne! ☺ Christine and I were very worried. We absolutely LOVE David (he's sooo awesome!), but he likes to "branch off" and create new pages. That's what worried us a little. And we love that you're very OneEPA, especially in a very, very challenging situation like this one.

Thanks!!

Thanks Roxanne

As a heads up – we will have today's information update to release and region 6 will have our first data set. It hasn't gone through area command just yet and we plan to parallel process with Dana.

Hi Christine:

You've done a wonderful job. We just need some context for the sampling results that have already been posted, some fact sheets, and Q's & A's. I also think that we need to put some of the information already posted into plain language so the public can more easily understand what's happening. We'll also need to put a link on the osc.org site telling people to go to this site once it's launched. The OSCs can use the private side of osc.org for their purposes of communicating with first responders. I know that George is working with Dana Tulis to get context around the sampling data. I believe that Jennifer has come up with some Q's so we'll need the A's and hopefully we can get some of that basic info up tomorrow.
